01 / THE DIRECTION

One brand.
Two ways to tell a story.

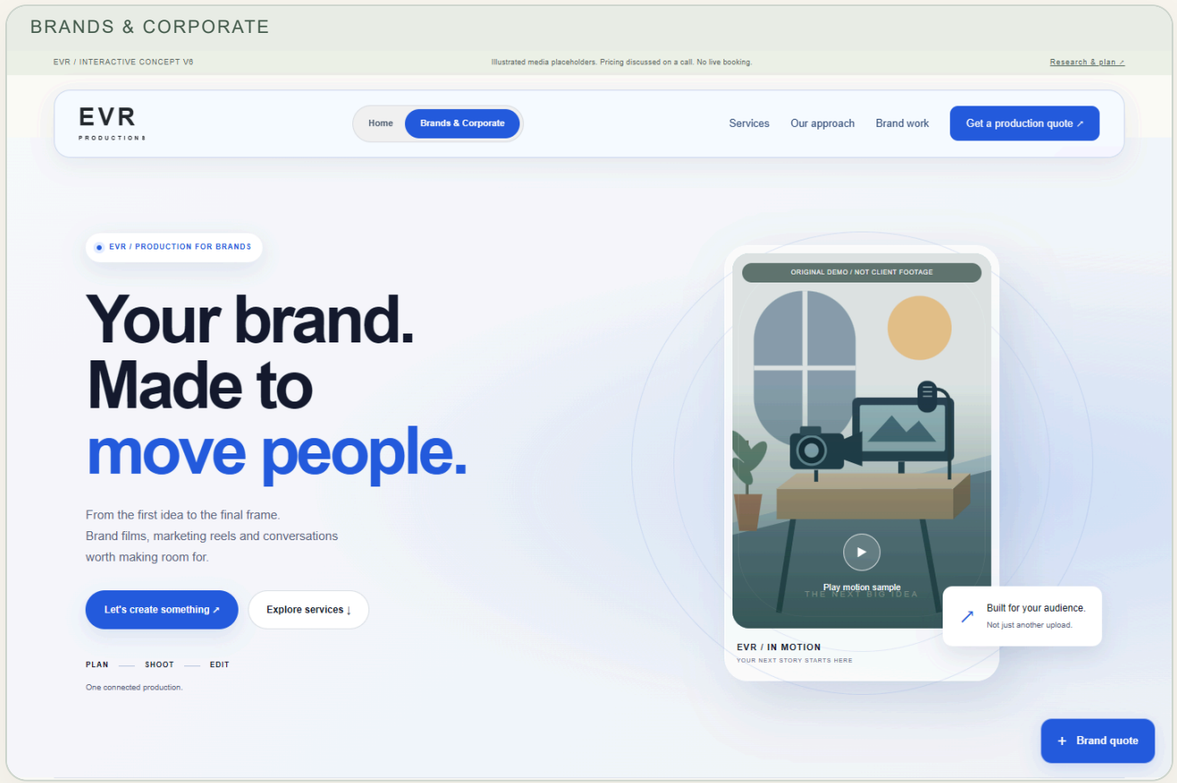

A warm wedding experience and a focused brand-production experience, connected by one simple switch.

HOME / WEDDINGS

Editorial type. Warm colour. Emotional storytelling.

BRANDS & CORPORATE

Bold type. Blue accents. Production clarity.

02 / THE PAGE MAP

Separate menus.
A connected website.

Each menu item opens a dedicated page, not just a section of the homepage.

Home / Weddings Brands & Corporate

Wedding-led home

Weddings	Coverage, style and the experience
Selected work	Wedding, pre-wedding and celebration stories
Our process	From first conversation to final delivery
Wedding quote	Requirements only; discuss pricing on a call

Corporate home

Services	Brand films, reels, YouTube and podcasts
Our approach	Brief, plan, shoot, edit and handover
Brand work	Relevant projects and production examples
Production quote	Requirements only; discuss pricing on a call

Shared contact journey: requirements → enquiry → a conversation with EVR

Customer-facing plan: 2 landing experiences + 8 menu pages + a shared enquiry page. Final quote-button wording: request a quote, not an instant price.

03 / HOMEPAGE LAYOUT

Make them feel the story.
Then guide the next step.

01 / Header & experience switch
Wedding menu and access to the corporate world.

02 / Opening story & three media cards
Click a rear card to bring it forward; scroll unfolds the story.

03 / Services & selected stories
Help visitors find relevant wedding work.

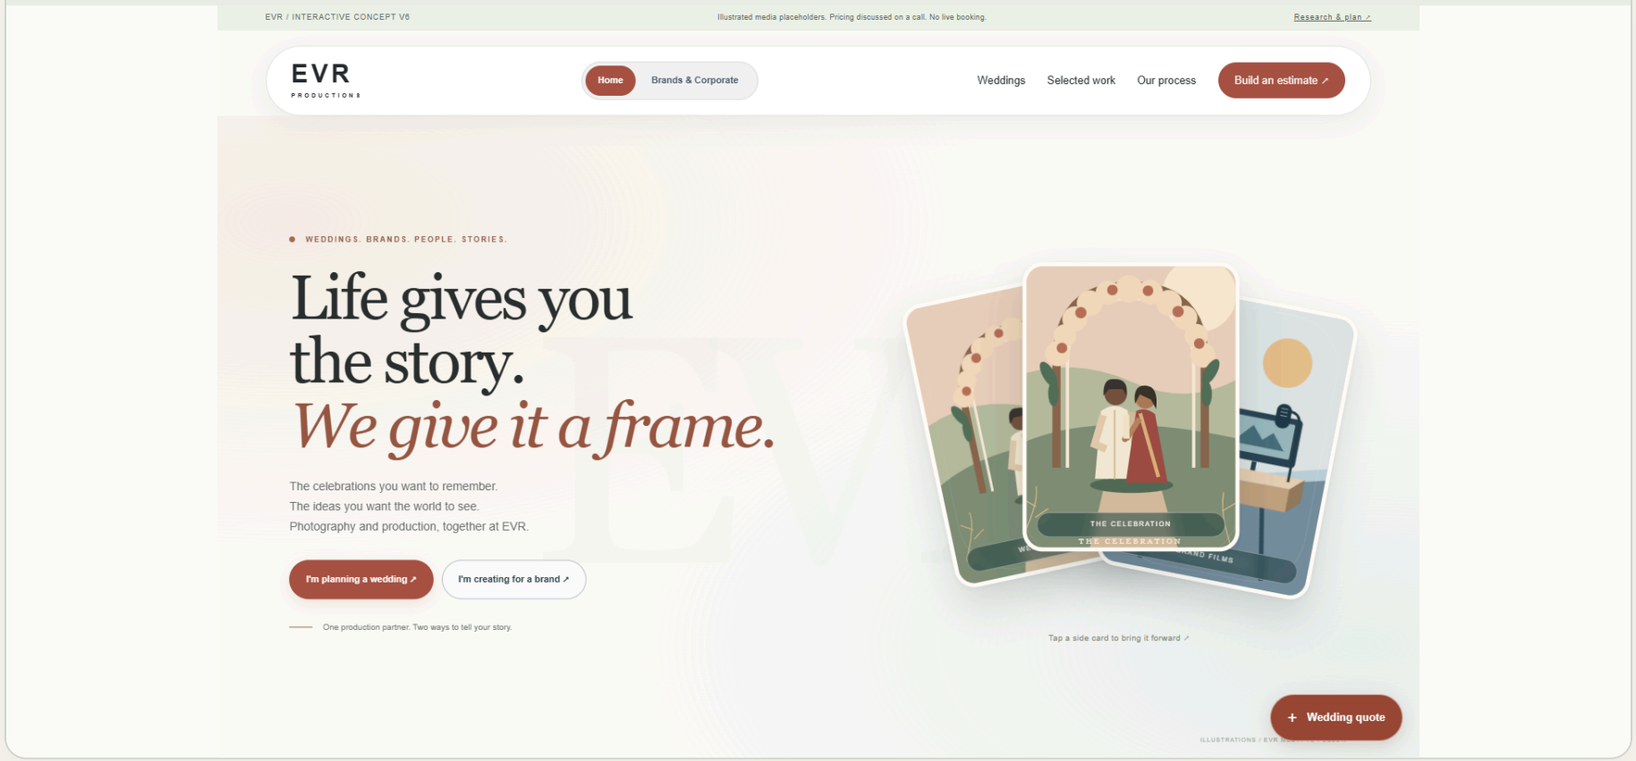

04 / Date enquiry & film feature
A clear next action and an explicit-play film.

05 / Your project, step by step
Scroll reveals the five-stage planning journey.

06 / Team, reviews & useful answers
Approved real people, genuine feedback and FAQs.

07 / Quote request & contact
Warm floating button plus a clear closing action.

CURRENT HOMEPAGE DESIGN / OPENING VIEW

Planned media treatment: the three illustrated cards become approved EVR video moments after the visual direction is signed off.

Section order shown at left is a simplified overview. Real content replaces illustration and review placeholders before launch.

04 / CORPORATE LAYOUT

Show what EVR makes.
And why the approach matters.

01 / Corporate header & switch
A different menu and blue visual treatment.

02 / Bold introduction & showreel
Message-led opening with a play-controlled film.

03 / Four-service scroll showcase
Brand films, reels, YouTube and podcasts.

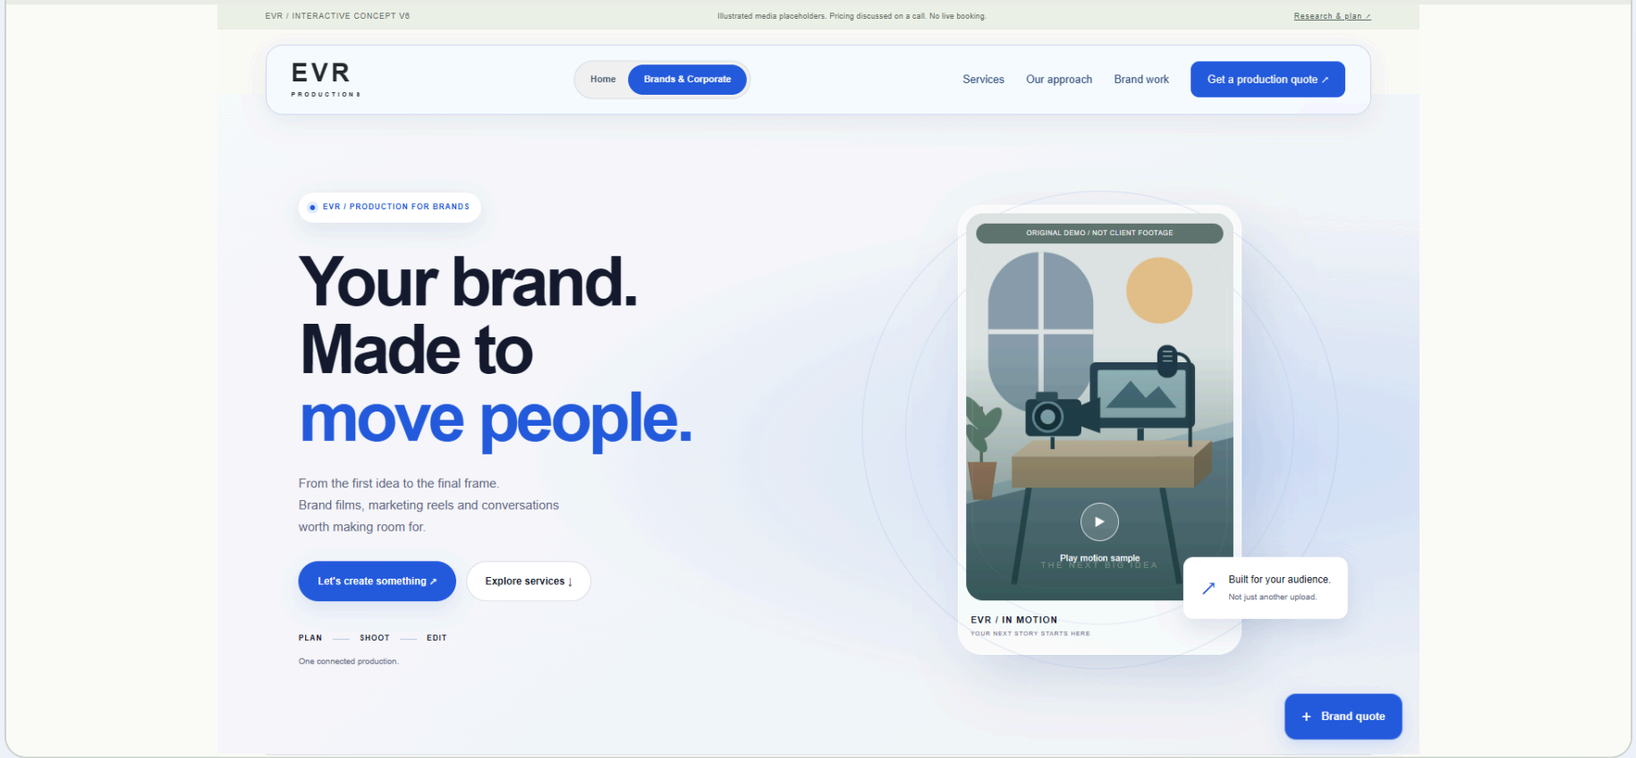

04 / Approach & production strengths
A varied card grid explaining the working style.

05 / Vertical reels & brand work
Short-form examples followed by project stories.

06 / Journey, reviews & FAQs
Make the production process easy to understand.

07 / Production enquiry
Blue floating quote button and a closing invitation.

CURRENT CORPORATE DESIGN / OPENING VIEW

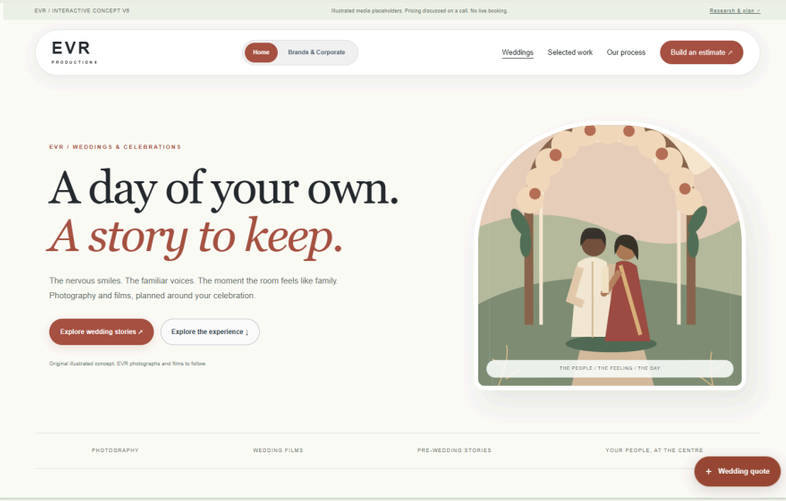

Focused scope: filmmaking and content production. Do not imply advertising, SEO or social management unless EVR confirms those services.

05 / BEYOND THE HOMEPAGE

Give every page a clear purpose.

Keep the visual language consistent while changing the content for the visitor's intention.

WEDDING SERVICE PAGE / EDITORIAL HERO

BRAND WORK / FEATURED PROJECT & FILTERS

Weddings + Services

Introduction → scroll-driven service chapters → scope guidance → FAQ → enquiry.

Selected work + Brand work

Featured story → category filters → project preview with brief, media and deliverables.

Our process + Our approach

Stage-by-stage journey → responsibilities and principles → handover guidance.

Wedding quote + Production quote

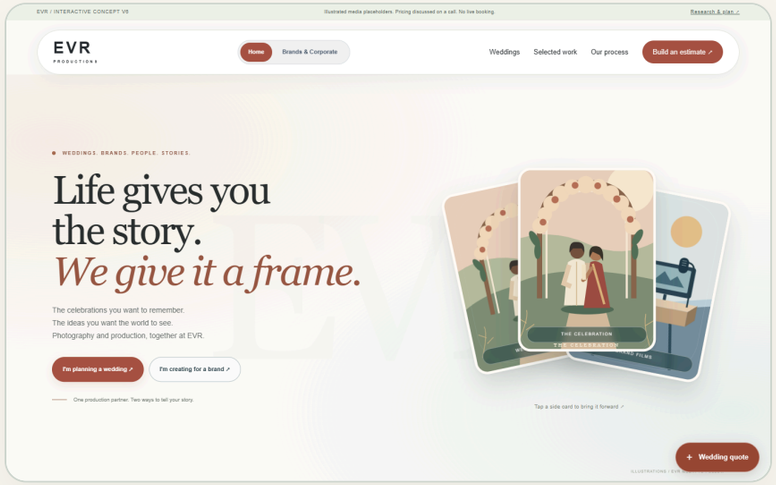

Separate requirements planners for each audience. No online prices or automatic totals.

06 / MOVEMENT WITH A PURPOSE

The scroll tells the story.

Major scenes follow the visitor's scroll position. Scrolling backwards restores the earlier stage.

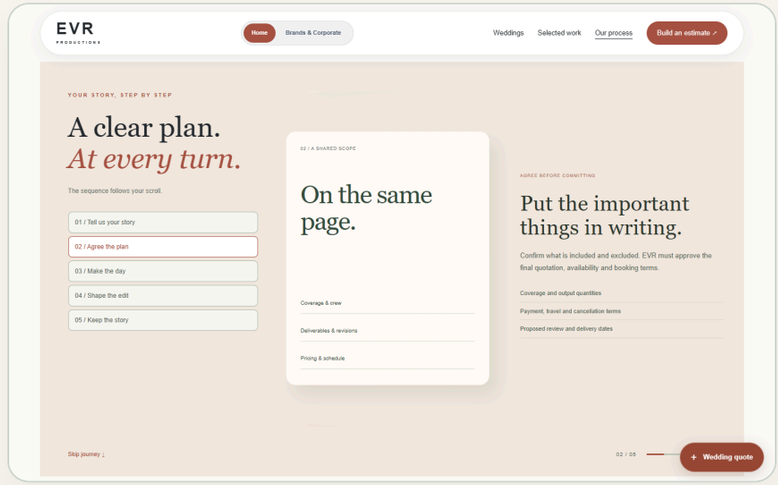

01 / HERO CARD STORY

Open. Select. Unfold.

The card stack introduces EVR. Select a card, then scroll through the gallery and the next story sections.

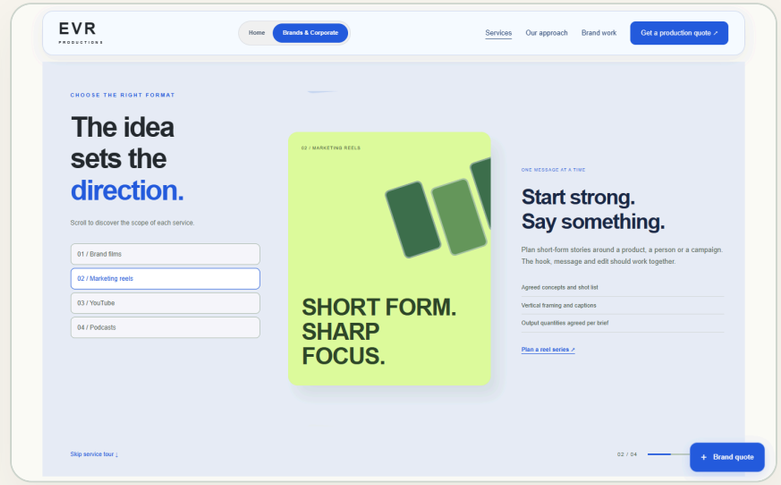

02 / PLANNING JOURNEY

One stage at a time.

Process chapters change as visitors scroll. Clear progress and direct chapter buttons keep the sequence usable.

03 / CORPORATE SERVICES

Artwork meets explanation.

The featured service changes with its artwork, supporting copy and progress indicator.

Lighter movement elsewhere

Section reveals, gentle media movement and scroll-progress heading accents.

Comfort comes first

Skip controls, keyboard access and static layouts for reduced motion or short screens.

Keep forms stable

No moving input fields. Longer films play only when the visitor chooses to watch.

These are still frames of the interaction plan. A PDF cannot demonstrate live scrolling; review the working prototype separately when approving motion.

07 / FROM INTEREST TO A CONVERSATION

Collect the brief.
Discuss the price on a call.

01 / ENTER
Wedding quote or Brand quote

→

02 / SELECT
Events, shoot days and outputs

→

03 / REVIEW
Requirements summary

→

04 / DISCUSS
Enquiry and a call with EVR

Requirements planner

Simplified layout diagram, not a live form.

CLIENT DETAILS
Name / project / location

PROJECT TYPE
Wedding event or brand production

COVERAGE
Dates / days / crew

DELIVERABLES
Films / photographs / edits

Pricing will be discussed on a call.

Summary and PDF show requirements, not prices.

Discuss my requirements

WEDDING QUOTE / WARM BUTTON

Events and keepsakes.

Event types, coverage, crew, films, albums and additional requests.

BRAND QUOTE / BLUE BUTTON

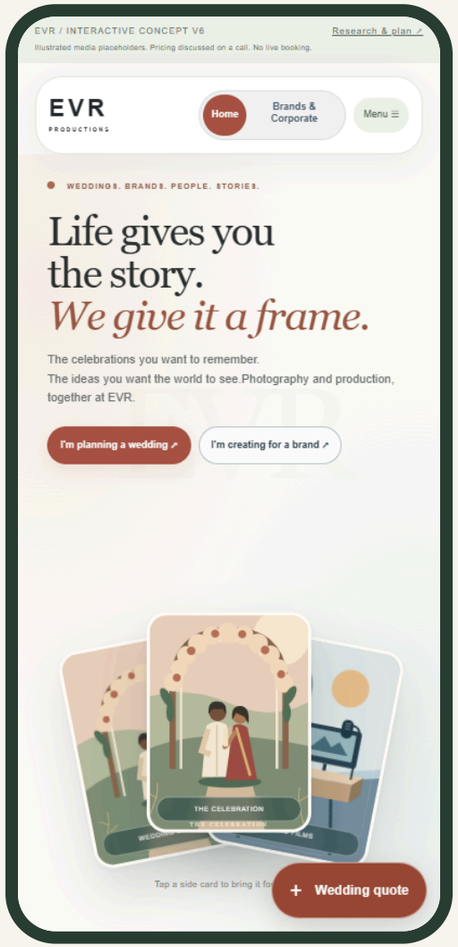

Production and outputs.

Shoot formats, crew, equipment, edits, delivery formats and usage.

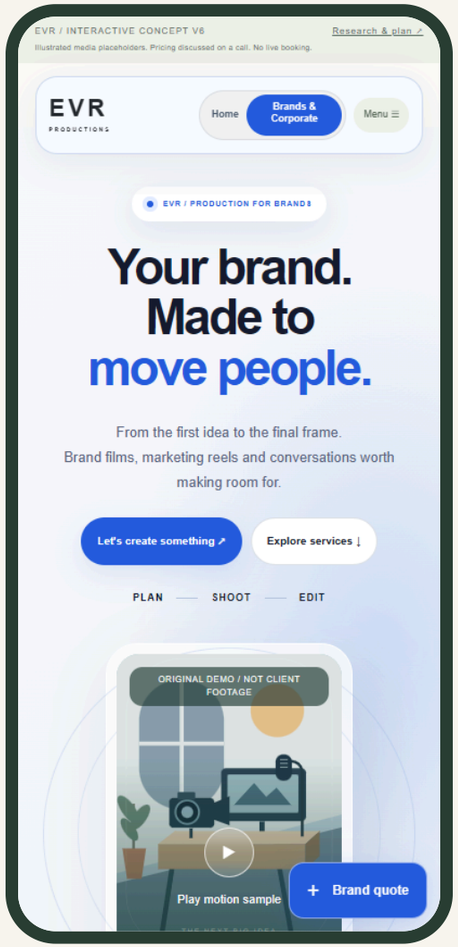

Bottom-right floating button on browsing pages. Hidden while completing quote or enquiry forms. Final live enquiry delivery is connected and tested during implementation.

08 / DESIGNED FOR THE SMALL SCREEN

Same personality.
Less friction.

HOME / WEDDINGS

BRANDS & CORPORATE

A switch that stays easy to find.

Visitors can move between the two experiences without searching through the menu.

Compact navigation.

A mobile menu keeps the header clean while preserving the correct links for each audience.

Comfortable browsing.

Single-column content, readable text, accessible controls and mobile-specific image crops.

Motion that adapts.

Shorter sequences where useful; normal readable sections when a pinned scene would be cramped.

One clear next action.

A contextual quote button while browsing, with no floating obstruction over the forms.

09 / HOW THE CONCEPT BECOMES THE WEBSITE

Approve the direction.
Then build with real stories.

The visual concept is ready for review. Production content, live connections and launch checks follow approval.

STEP 01

Layout sign-off

Confirm both visual directions, page order, navigation, motion approach and the quote-request journey.

STEP 02

Content integration

Replace illustrations with approved EVR media. Finalise copy, project stories and genuine reviews.

STEP 03

Live implementation

Optimise media, connect the agreed enquiry channel and prepare the approved hosting and domain.

STEP 04

Review & launch

Test mobile layouts, media, motion and enquiry delivery. Obtain final approval before publishing.

For this meeting, approve only the layout and plan.

1. Wedding and corporate visual directions / 2. Page structure
3. Scroll interactions / 4. Mobile experience / 5. Call-based quotation flow

Planning sequence, not a fixed delivery schedule. The current prototype does not send enquiries, take payment or confirm bookings. Optional operational systems are outside this layout review.